WAR ORDER FOR BURLINGTON

Hickok Lumbering Company Will Em ploy 100 Extra Workmen.

Frederick E. Burgess of Burlington has returned home from New York eity, where he has been for upward of two months on business.

Mr. Burgess succeeded in securing for the Hickok Lumbering Co. another large order from the Canadian Car &Foundry Co. to manufacture wood en boxes for shrapnel and howitzer shells for the imperial Russian government. This brings the total number of boxes to be made by the Hickok company to 257,000.

The Champlain shops have been leased, and additional machinery ordered to facilitate the manufacture of this big order.

Mr. Burgess says the concern will employ fully 100 extra workmen, making a force in the two plants about 225.

Special machinery is now being installed as rapidly as possible. The contract will be completed in seven months from July 1. Some idea of the magnitude of the order may be gained from the fact that 40 million screws will be required in fastening together the boxes which, because of the nature of their

BIG NAVAL GUNS.

Death at Times Comes From Merely

Serving Them In Battle. Modern naval engagements demonstrate that the gunners sometimes die after the battle, even when they have not been wounded or injured in any way. Death is caused by disturbance of the circulation due to the strain placed upon the nervous system by the excitement and the tremendous vibraflons of modern guns.

Curiously enough, this collapse is quite as likely to affect the most robust members of the gun crew as the ones with poorer physiques and bears no relation to the individual's courage. It is due to a tack of sufficient reserve power of the heart, which is dependent upon the quality of the heart muscles, and there is no known means of estimating this inherent quality exactly. It is possible, of course, to determine the force and strength of the heart in an individual, but only some test, such as that of actual battle, will determine the quality of the heart muscles.
